Test of Greatness.
It is easy in the world to live after the world's opinion; it is easy in solitude to live after our own; but the great man is he who in the midst of the crowd keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude.—Emerson.

Literary Note.
This paragraph from a Georgia exchange: "He made enough out of the literary business to buy a ten-acre farm and a Georgia mule, and now he has decided to settle down to genuine business. We have known lots of literary fellows, but this is the only instance where one ever got rich enough at it to invest in this way."

A Beam of Divinity.
To see a man fearless in dangers, untainted with lusts, happy in adversity, composed in a tumult, and laughing at all those things which are generally either coveted or feared, all men must acknowledge that this can be nothing else but a beam of divinity that influences a mortal body.—Seneca.

Sleeping and Snoring.
"De man who accidentally goes to sleep in church," said Uncle Eben, "somehow seems to get a heap more blame than de man who puts in de other six days showin' deliberate disrespect to de sermon."

Sailing Vessels Coming Back.
Sailing vessels are coming into vogue again, especially within the last five years, after having been practically banished from the ocean by the quicker and more easily controlled steamships.

Remedy for Hiccoughs.
A severe case of hiccoughs is dangerous, though it is stated upon excellent authority that there is a pleasant remedy that is almost instantaneous in giving relief, that of giving the patient ice cream. It has been proven successful numerous times in very severe cases, too.

Life's Best School.
Life's best school is living with people. It is there we learn our best lessons. Someone says: "It is better to live with others, even at the cost of considerable jarring and friction, than to live in undisturbed quiet alone."—Home Notes.

All Seek Foreign Trade.
Owners of even the smallest toy manufacturing establishments in the Nuremberg district, Germany, cater to the foreign trade. Factories employing from six to twenty people are no exception to this rule.

His Excuse.
Little Bobbie is a faithful attendant in the "baby class" at Sunday school. One day, when the teacher called upon him to recite the Lord's Prayer, he started bravely, floundered, started again, and finally gave up, saying: "Teacher, I can't say it, I'm so out of practice."

Her Mistake.
"I had to leave my last situation because the missus said they were going to lead the sinful life, and they wouldn't want any servants about the place."—Punch.

Then We'd Hear Things.
"It's in the world of politics," said the talkative man, "that the truth of the old saying 'money talks' is most frequently proven."
"Yes," replied the wise citizen, "but if hush money would only talk what sensations we would have."
